Start with a useful task

Follow the official sources for the tools shown in this reel.

Use the singular repository

The source discusses LinkedIn Agent Skill for profile and content work. Read the current skill catalog rather than relying on the reel's historical count.

Gather real evidence

List your audience, experience, examples and claims you can substantiate. A profile or post should reflect your own work, not invented achievements or generic authority language.

Choose one draft

Prepare a profile section or a single post. Give the skill your intended point, relevant evidence and tone, then review the draft for accuracy and usefulness.

Check the real result

Keep a repeatable example and review the actual output.

Keep approval separate

Drafting does not authorize publishing, messaging or account automation. Review the exact text and destination before any external action.

Check policy and privacy

Use material you may share and respect the platform’s rules. Do not import private contact lists or automate unsolicited outreach merely because a skill describes a workflow.

Evaluate the content

Read it as a member of the intended audience. Remove unsupported claims and repetition; retain a clear example and one useful takeaway.

Official sources

Consult current upstream setup, licenses and service terms.

Resource and access

The word AGENT refers to this guide only on its matching reel. The free resource requires no follow, email address or purchase. The bio link for 3RD DESIRE products is separate.

Licenses and provider terms

Official sources checked on 9 November 2026. Read each project license and notices before modifying or redistributing software. Model, hosted-service and third-party media terms are separate; confirm their permitted uses and costs for your workflow.
